DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1, 5, 8 and 10 recite the limitation "the recovered traffic channel" in claim 1, line 11; claim 5, line 5; claim 8, line 4; and claim 10, line 22. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 6 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jonsson et al (US 5,544,224) in view of the Applicant's admitted prior art.

Regarding claims 6 and 7, the Applicant's admitted prior art teaches assigning to the mobile station a traffic channel by the searched base station using a physical used for data transmission and resuming the cal on the assigned traffic channel (see the Applicant's Background of The Invention, page 2, lines 1-5 "paging channel", and see page 3, line 16 to page 4, line 19, "traffic channel").

The Applicant's admitted prior art does not specifically disclose a method of recovering a dropped call in a mobile station, comparing the steps of: searching for an adjacent base station whose signal arrives at the mobile station with a greater received signal strength using a searcher, when a call is dropped.

Jonsson teaches a method of recovering a dropped call in a mobile station, comparing the steps of: searching for an adjacent base station whose signal arrives at the mobile station with a greater received signal strength using a searcher, when a call is dropped (see Abstract and column 2, lines 15-30).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the above teaching of Jonsson into the system of the Applicant's admitted prior art in order to provide a method for reestablishing a call in any communication network after the call has been terminated in a normal fashion (see Jonsson, Abstract).

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1-5 and 8-10 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Regarding claims 1, 5, 8 and 10, the admitted prior art teaches a method of recovering a dropped call in a mobile station (see the Applicant's Background of The Invention, page 2 lines 1-5), comprising the steps of: determining whether two consecutive good frames have been received on a traffic channel that was disconnected in relation to the dropped call (see the Applicant's Background of The Invention, page 4 lines 2-7), while the frame receipt is checked (also see the Applicant's Background of The Invention, page 4 lines 4-11), assigning to the mobile station a traffic channel by the searched base station using a physical channel used for data transmission (see the Applicant's Background of The Invention, page 2, lines 1-5 "paging channel", and see page 3, line 16 to page 4, line 19, "traffic channel").

Jonsson teaches searching an adjacent base station whose signal arrives at the mobile station with a greater received signal strength using a searcher and requesting a channel at mobile station to the searched base station (see Abstract and column 2, lines 15-30).

The Applicant's admitted prior art and Jonson, alone or in combination fails to teach resuming the call on the traffic channel that is first available between one of the recovered traffic channel and the assigned traffic channel.

Dependent claims 2-4 and 9 are allowable for the same reason.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 6 and 7 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
